IMPORTANT NOTICE

CONFERENCE- HOTEL ROOMING BLOCK at HOLIDAY INN

Despite every attempt to avoid scheduling our conference during a Tennessee home football game, the University has rescheduled the Georgia game for Saturday, September 30 in Knoxville. As with most popular sporting events, the hotel room rates have increased to their legal limit (some at $600/night) which has made it challenging to secure a room at a reasonable rate in the immediate downtown area near the conference center.

After assessing all options with our limited time frame, it has been determined the best course of action for our members is to continue with the conference as planned and work to provide some housing alternatives. The Southeast Region of the WOCN® Society Board is working to create some additional space within the current room block at the Holiday Inn. The Board members will be housed off-site to open more rooms within the contracted room block. However, even with this action, the rooming block is nearing capacity.

We have posted a list of alternative hotels and a map of the downtown area on our website.

We look forward to seeing you in Knoxvile
