Excellent speaker

Lesson learned: Pt. skin assessment within 8hrs. of admission, considered wound is present on admission (POA)

Useful information

Love the one egg a day recommendation. Thank you for explaining MARS. Great pictures and comedy.

Great hope to use this strategies in practice

Recognizing that it takes a multidisciplinary team is awesome

The discussion of the new guidelines should be able to help us with our facility's prevention and management of pressure ulcers.

excellent review and update.

Very Informative. I will certainly review with my Director and assure that Risk Management is attuned to the new assessment recommendations.

Great session, timely review Super presentor THANKS!

Nice overview

very informative

good information

always informative

Maragaret was great. There was a LOT of info on the slides and it was hard to read the slides and listen; lots to absorb but the slides should be helpful when reviewing this presentation. Speaker was very engaging.

Covered well the objectives. In home care but need to be observant of those at home esp. with those who have no care givers.

Excellent!!

thorough and succinct

Great update

This session stressed the need for a multidisciplinary team approach for the prevention of pressure ulcers.

Very good presentation with several references in the slides so we can follow up in greater detail as needed.

Great speaker and powerpoints

I learned a lot and will use this in my practice

Great job with updates to changes. Speaker admitted nutrition was not a strong point for her.

helpful info for new guidelines

The speaker was very thorough speaker was honest that she defers to registered dietitian. I consult with RD a lot at my place of employment. Very pertinent material that i will definitely take back to my place of employment, especially since I am now in a committee whose focus is "Ai

Excellent presentation

great review of guidelines

Presenter reviewed MARS, VITAL and MASD information as well as important updates to the NPU Guidelines.

Very informative. Enjoyed her sense of humor.

always good to review & evaluate NPUAP guidelines

speaker knowledgeable

I enjoyed the speaker & the topic, I just thought it was supposed to be the "keynote" speaker for the conference so I was a bit surprised that there really wasn't a "Welcome to the Conference, let's get excited" moment.

Information was very helpful to my practice.

Very informative, spoke clearly great lecture

The 8 hour window of documentation leadway

Margaret is always an entertaining and informative speaker

great information

Margaret said to advise pressure ulcer patients to eat one egg every day! Easy to do!

excellent resources..I went to the NPUAP conference - excellent summary

good information

very interactive with the audience.

Very informative and factual based information

Great summary of the new changes

Great presentation!! Which included so much from the new NPUAP compared to the old one. Hoping to reduce the frequency of many skin alterations. Speaker was excellent.

good information.

very informative and RELEVANT!

IMPORTANT TOPIC

Interesting and useful

I enjoyed this session. Very informative.

This was very informative and great speaker

great presentation and information

Always interested in what NPUAP has to update.

Excellent info on pressure ulcers & MASD & MARS good recap of 2014 International Guidelines & updated expectations for facility.

I wish we had a copy of the current guidelines for pressure ulcers to follow speaker

Informative and engaging. I liked all the references that were given.
