

9/29/2017 201705 An Evidence-based Approach to Management of Refractory Wounds

Objective	# Resp	Avg.
Describe mechanisms of action, indications, and guidelines for use of currently available active wound therapies	187	4.909
Discuss current evidence regarding the factors that result in impaired healing	187	4.909

Dorothy Doughty	Seaker Overall Avg:	4.930
Teaching Methods/Ability		4.93
Presentation was fair, balanced and free from commercial bias		4.94
Demonstrated Expertise and effectively communicated the topic		4.93

I never stop learning...esp when D Doughty presents any topic!

Very informative

I could listen to Dorothy speak all day long.

change tx if not healing within 2 weeks, consider increased MMP's, no smoking, management and active guideline tx, know what products are available and what is safe to use, cell tissue products, hyperbaric, GF, NPWT,

This was a great session especially for first time attendees. I think you will get a lot of feedback it was too basic. HOWEVER, i learned several things in this lecture and we can ALL always use a refresher and none of us knows it all. I loved this sessio

Dorothy is a fantastic speaker and I always enjoy when I get to listen to her speak. Helps as a refresher to attendees to provide a holistic approach to wound care and to remember it's not always about the dressing selection!

always engaging, and I seem to learn something new every time I hear Dorothy speak always a thoughtful and well prepared presentation

Excellent discussion of things we should know and do everyday, but don't.

Always appreciate Ms. Doughty's perspective on any subject, especially wound care. Cannot hear enough of her presentations. Will definitely remember her advice when selecting topical and active wound care management.

Without endorsing any products, I would like mention of examples of various categories of dressings. I go away wondering what product falls into generally which category. I feel this could be done without showing attention to one product over another. I always a pleasure to have DD provide updates!

Informative.

Excellent speaker. Interesting and very knowledgeable

Very well organized, clear and concise.

Informative

Examples of dressings and its indications nothing was really new, but the summary and review were helpful appreciate the decision process to go to these options in care

Very good. Clear, and refreshing. Learned, and also brought back things that I had previously learned and brought them back to the forefront.

Dorothy provided great information on different types of wound healing products and I had a better understanding of the use for these products.

special dressing used to help move refractory wounds into healing phase provided insight for assessing refractory etiology

Explained how it is okay to go back and recheck why the wound is not healing.

Dorothy is always great. I can listen to her teach all day long good review

Great!

Dorothy was a jewel to step in at the last minute since Dr. Baharestani could not attend the conference. And as always Dorothy's presentation was fabulous . . . great review!

excellent slides and case studies

Please have specific products listed for each category. That does not mean these would be recommended by speaker, but whole speech leaves me wondering what products fall into what categories. Rather worthless if I come away wondering what products can be

Good logical approach to assessing wounds

Helpful information, good reminders. My knowledge on cell and tissue based therapies protease inhibitors, and acellular matrix dsgs needed some enhancement. Dorothy is always such a pleasure to listen to. Excellent presentation.

great info

Dorothy is excellent presenter, always knowledgeable and appropriate to practice. Good review and reminder that not all wounds are the same, and should not be treated the same way!

excellent presentation, good analogies used during lecture excellent

always love hearing Dorothy speak. very organized and easy to understand and follow.

Great explanation of different tx.

always thoughtful and well prepared

Dorothy is a fantastic speaker and gifted clinician, love hearing her presentation