Enjoyed his passion for palliative care.

I won a T shirt in the Vendor area and am sending it to him via one of the committee persons. Love that idea!!

Reinforced how important communication with family is.

This was a very interesting session. Palliative wound care is a very misunderstood topic and it is always great to get more expertise in the topic.

great speaker, I got a lot out of this.

Excellent comments provided

Very engaged speaker

Tips of all kinds greatly appreciated!!

This session was very useful, easy to follow and certainly applicable to acute care WOC Nursing.

Very helpful. First class i have had in this subject

Reality check for sure! Thank you for this topic!!!

New insight to palliative wound care for me. Great job.

Found this presentation very helpful to my professional practice. I like the evaluation scales.

Excellent

Very helpful information, really appreciate the creativity in practice

I loved this presentation. I did learn about some product that I was not aware of.

excellent

Good information

Very realistic in the care of a palliative patient in regards to maintenance of wound instead of a goal of cure.

Will for sure help in my future practice

Great presentation...good speaker...

Having worked as a hospice nurse, I found Mr. Emmons presentation especially informative for those who aren't ready for hospice, yet have trouble with pain management. Learned a lot!

very informative and passionate about this topic, enjoyed this session very much

Great practical ideas for implementing in any setting

This is an area that I needed more info. I appreciate this session being offered Again, an excellent speaker and presentation.

This was valuable information as my acute care setting takes on hospice patients. Comfort is key.

Excellent . Wonderful ideas to contain exudate

Wonderfull speaker, excellent strategies discussed

This was a good presentation and but Skin Failure into perspective

Eric was wonderful! Very knowledgeable and, at the same time, compassionate!

Interesting and provided a different perspective to think about when treating critically ill patients.

One of my favorite sessions!

GOOD

He is a powerful speaker.

Very informative.

EXCELLENT!!!!

Very glad this topic was presented; information will be very helpful in discussions with patients, families and providers.

Good topic

Dr. Emmons is an enthusiastic presenter with a vast knowledge of wound care. Supported my quest to promote holistic assessment.

Great!

Speaker was very professional. I appreciated the creativity the speaker brought to his job when caring for his patients. He showed a marvelous example of how a woc nurse needs to be innovative.

This topic is dear to my heart. The speaker was not always easy to follow. There were gaps in his delivery of what he was trying to say.

none

loved ongenious supply usage

Interesting concepts

good information

This was an absolute wonderful lecture. Should be repeated.

Kevin Emmons was a wonderful speaker. He gave a lot of great examples of different ways to hold dressings in place not using the ordinary items from a hospital. He made it applicable and I really appreciated that.

good presentation of innovative ways to manage difficult wounds

This session helped me get back on track with realistic goals

Realistic and helpful

Great!

Good

Good information.

Very timely information- excellent!

Excellent speaker, very interesting and knowledgeable

Good info for my scope of practice

A difficult topic that is needed at the end of life, which can help with the quality of life not only for the patient but the family. Very good.....

I learned new techniques/dressings for breast wound

Excellent discussion and very relevant to my work with the geriatric population.

Very good

Great presentation

Very good presentation

Kevin was excellent, great topic, very meaningful
